PROCLAMATION
HOME INDOOR AIR QUALITY MONTH
OCTOBER 2010

WHEREAS, clean, healthy indoor air is important to everyone; and

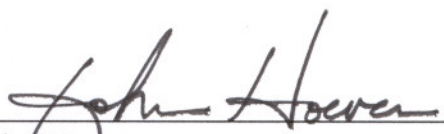

WHEREAS, many North Dakotans spend a great deal of time indoors; and

WHEREAS, many factors negatively affect the quality of the air we breathe indoors, including radon, carbon monoxide, secondhand tobacco smoke, mold, lead, asbestos and even certain household products; and

WHEREAS, many North Dakotans suffer chronic and acute health effects and economic burdens because of poor indoor air quality; and

WHEREAS, maintaining clean, healthy air benefits all citizens.

NOW, THEREFORE, as Governor of the State of North Dakota, I do hereby proclaim October 2010, HOME INDOOR AIR QUALITY MONTH in the state of North Dakota.

John Hoeven
Governor
